CONSCRIPTION IS PRESENTED PRO, CON FOR LIONS

Lucas Horsch Discusses Both Sides of National Issue At Meeting

Arguments for and against conscription were presented at the meeting of the Upland Lions club at noon yesterday by L. J. Horsch.

Reasons for conscription as being advocated in the current national discussion were cited by Mr. Horsch as follows:

"FOR" CONSCRIPTION

First—Must have manpower.

Second — Conscription equally divides the responsibility of sacrifice.

Third—Protection of the privileges and rights of citizenship require in times of international stress a strong military force.

As to the arguments being advanced against the draft, Mr. Horsch, a Chaffey junior college professor, summarized the following:

AGAINST CONSCRIPTION

First—Religious and humanitarian objections.

Second—Inequality in sacrifice—some men stay at home and profit due to war.

Third — Small highly trained militarized force is needed, with well organized industrial system supporting this force in the production of materials for the war machines.

Fourth — Conscription is dangerous to democracy — adopting means used by the dictatorships.

Mr. Horsch, who said he sought to make an impartial presentation of the conscription issue, said that in the long run the economic forces would have more effect on world conditions than the military forces.

The speaker said he realized a transition period may be approaching in the world and he termed as especially critical, the decision that is before Congress in the matter of adopting or rejecting conscription in peace times.

Dr. Earl L. Wenger was program chairman, with J. W. Mehl, president, in charge of the meeting.

From St. Louis he will go to Harrisburg and Labanon, Pa., to visit in his former home communities. He will travel by train and will be gone about three weeks. E. C. "Jumbo" Woodruff, substitute, will carry the route during Mr. Fies' absence.

UPLAND HUNTERS GET FIVE DEER

Epplers Bring Back Two Deer Each From Ukiah Area

Five deer were brought back to Upland within the past few days, following the opening of the deer season in certain sections of the state on August 10.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Eppler, 555 East Foothill boulevard, returned home Tuesday bringing two deer each, which they bagged near Ukiah. Jack Isom, who with his brother Vernon joined 800 hunters in the Little Rock canyon district in Los Angeles county, was one of eight persons to bring back a deer from that section when the season opened Saturday morning. The Isom brothers returned Sunday.

Proud of her marksmanship record, Mrs. Eppler claims the game she brought home this week as her first. All four deer were shot on Sunday.

"We were fortunate," she explained, "in getting into a remote section where no other persons were hunting. We packed back into the mountains with a guide."

Largest of the four deer which the Epplers brought back weighed 125 pounds. The deer which Isom shot weighed around 100 pounds.

Euclid Parkway To Be Torn Up to Study Disease of Trees

Euclid avenue parkway near Fifth street in Ontario will be torn up next week to determine the extent of the root fungus that has killed 20 pepper trees along the famous thoroughfare.

For several weeks the avenue sprinkling system has been turned off at that point and the grass is drying up there. City Manager Neil Smith will direct the borings into the soil to aid in investigating the condition. Carbon bisulphide will be injected into the soil later as a means of killing the disease, which spreads from tree to tree.

P. E. PLACES NEW RAILWAY TIES UNDER FREIGHT SPUR AS TRACK REMOVAL SOUGHT

Japanese Boy Who Finished School Here Now Soldier

Satoru Noda, Japanese boy who was graduated from the eighth grade of the Upland grammar school, is now a soldier in Japan, his mother, now Mrs. Tom Saito, told The Upland News yesterday when she came here from Los Angeles on business.

The Japanese woman, who was Widow Noda when she and her son Satoru lived on Alpine street and San Antonio avenue, expects to sail soon for Japan to see her son. She may return in several months, she says. She is still the owner of the local property, although she left here 13 years ago.

With great difficulty the information was procured from Mrs. Saito, since her English is almost impossible to understand. Her sense of humor is superior to her linguistic ability, however, and the conversation amused her greatly.

Joe Says Burro Threw Him, But Police Doubtful

How Joe Marquez, Chaffey street, received the wound in his back which Dr. Truman T. Ackerson says could only be inflicted by a knife, nobody knows.

Joe first said he fell on a sharp stick. Then he said that he fell off a burro on a piece of glass. Joe even produced a piece of glass, but Upland police doubted that it was the cause of the wound.

Whatever the cause, Joe believes in silent suffering. The wound is an inch and a half long and one half to an inch deep.

Dr. Ackerson reported the case to the police when Joe asked for medical attention.

CREW BUSY TODAY ON SOUTH EUCLID PORTION OF TRACK

New railway ties are today being placed under the Pacific Electric track on Euclid avenue south of the Santa Fe railway crossing.

It's the first time in many years the ties have been replaced on the freight spur, according to the foreman of the crew of workers. He said he understood the track was to be lowered and replacing of old ties with new ones is preliminary to lowering the track level.

ONLY DEVELOPMENT

Workmen on the job of placing new ties is the only development in the current negotiations between the city and the Pacific Electric relative to removal of the freight spur from Euclid avenue.

A public hearing regarding the Pacific Electric freight spur was held Aug. 5. Mention was made there that lawn could not be placed on a portion of the parkway because of the steep slope from the track level to the curbs. It was also mentioned by a Pacific Electric representative that the track might be lowered.

At the city council meeting last night no mention was made of the Pacific Electric track and of the recent hearing.

For years the Pacific Electric track removal question has been discussed by councilmen. At various times the officials have requested removal of the spur.

EXCERPTS FROM MINUTES

Following are excerpts from the city council minutes dealing with the Pacific Electric track removal question:

"June 16, 1938—The council requested the city attorney to write the Pacific Electric Railway Co. and request it to remove the track from the parking on Euclid avenue."

"Sept. 17, 1939 — Moved by Long, seconded by Wilson, and carried, that the city attorney be requested to write the Pacific Electric Railway Co. and the Santa Fe Railway Co. and ask them to have officials with full power and authority to sign agreements for inter-switching of cars between the two companies at the council meeting Oct. 15, 1939."

"Oct. 19, 1939—Official representatives of the Santa Fe and the Pacific Electric Railway Companies were present and assured the council that negotiations were nearly complete to provide for the switching of cars by the Santa Fe for the Pacific Electric and the officials of the P. E. stated that as soon as the agreement was completed and arrangements made they would remove their tracks from Euclid avenue. They were of the opinion that it would be about 90 days."

"Dec. 21, 1939—Moved by Wilson, seconded by Long, that the city attorney be requested to write the Pacific Electric Railway Co. and ascertain what progress has been made toward removal of the track on Euclid avenue."

"March 21, 1940 — Moved by Long, seconded by Wilson, and carried, that the city attorney write the railway company concerning the moving of the Pacific Electric track on Euclid avenue."

INVITATIONS ARE ISSUED TO FIRST-TIME VOTERS FOR AUGUST 29 CIVIC PROGRAM

Invitations are in the mails today to the community's First-Time Voters to be guests at a community meeting Aug. 29.

At the same time preparations are being made for the community meeting in the Upland Woman's club house. Judge LeRoy Dawson of the Los Angeles municipal court and principal in the radio "Quiz Court" will be the principal speaker at the meeting.

While the Upland chamber of commerce is the general sponsor of the meeting, various organizations will also participate in the preparations. Upland Lions club members yesterday voted to serve the dinner. Glenn M. Atwood will be the chef-in-chief, assisted by other Lions.

TO HONOR YOUTHS

Special honor will be given the First-Time voters and this phase of the meeting will be of principal interest. New directors of the chamber of commerce will also be presented. President Fred E. Draper, who will retire as head of the civic organization the end of this month, will preside.

TRAINING IS IN EARNEST AT CAMP

Local National Guard Captain Tells of Camp Routine

Upland's members of Company G, National Guard, now in training near Camp Lewis, Washington, are finding the training intensive and somewhat strenuous, communications received here reveal.

Anson J. Smalley, captain of the local company, writes that the climate is very similar to that near San Luis Obispo. Located 90 miles from Seattle and ten miles from Centralia, the company is so isolated that the guard members do not even receive a daily paper until it is several days old. The camp is a mile from the railroad.

Dust is so thick that when men start marching, the columns are obscured from view.

Starting Wednesday, the company planned to depart on a five-day "field problem".

According to expectations from the members of Company G, mobilization of National Guard will probably be called sometime between October 1 and January 1.

The trip by train up the coast to Washington proved especially enjoyable, according to the report. Scenery and food were excellent. Food at camp is also good.

Local guard is expected to return a week from Sunday.

SAFEWAY STORE CONTRACT LET

Los Angeles Office Unable to Furnish Facts on Successful Bid

Safeway contract has been let, it has been unofficially reported in Upland today, but the Los Angeles office of the Safeway company could furnish no information on the subject, since all construction work is handled by the Oakland office.

No local contractor was the successful bidder,

Delay in the awarding of the contract was thought to have been caused by some discrepancy in the size of the lot. Although the deed called for one dimension of the lot being 110 feet, there is an extra foot that has not been plotted on the city map, it is said.

OPENING OF SIXTH AVENUE APPROVED AS PART OF TRACT

City Council Acts on Subdivision Matter and Routine Affairs

Extension of Sixth avenue north to G street is scheduled to be started immediately as the result of permission given by the city council to Charles F. Eppler, subdivider, at the city council meeting last night. This proposed development will be in connection with the subdivision now underway on Campus avenue and Arrow highway. Mr. Eppler and Tom Redmon were at last night's meeting to present detailed plans for the project.

The council also gave tentative approval to M. Blumenfeld for enlarging the Arrow Highway market building. A special meeting of the city planning commission is to be called to consider the plans but the proposed work has the councilmen's approval. Mr. Blumenfeld and Gilbert Cline were present in connection with this matter.

ROUTINE BUSINESS

Only routine matters were considered at last night's meeting. Richard G. Manley, city manager, reported that he would cooperate with the county clerk's office in making a recheck of some of the precincts to determine if the reported census figure is approximately correct.

First reading was given an ordinance making it unlawful for anyone to enter an area marked by the city against no "trespassing". Such an ordinance has been advocated by the California League of Municipalities in protecting vital points such as water reservoirs.

First reading was also given an ordinance establishing the amount of money to be raised for the various funds by taxes.

AUDITORS' REPORT

Of special interest was the reading of recommendations in the city's bookkeeping system submitted by Fuller, Eadie & Payne, auditors, who recently completed an annual audit of the books. Establishment of a new bookkeeping system was proposed, since there have been many changes in the laws governing municipalities and since the city clerk is going to actually handle all the bookkeeping rather than one of the departmental employes. Mr. Manley was authorized to determine the cost of such a system.

When the city hall was completed, a sum of more than $800 was left in the city hall fund. This money was transferred to the water department by action last night, since all bills in connection with the building are paid.

George C. Foote, Central avenue, was present to suggest the placing of a street light at Central avenue and Arrow highway. The council ordered the placing of the light.

The councilmen were given an invitation by President Fred E. Draper of the chamber of commerce to attend the First-Time voters banquet Aug. 29.

Relief Corps Plans To Attend Meeting In Pomona Aug. 21

Plans for attending the meeting of Vicksburg Corps in Pomona next Wednesday, Aug. 21, when the work of the order will be exemplified, were made during the meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps held Thursday at the W. R. C. Memorial hall in Ontario.

The Pomona meeting will be opened at 1 o'clock and Mrs. R. A. Martin, president of the local corps, requested all officers who can do so to attend the meeting.

Mrs. Martin opened the meeting yesterday at 1:30 p.m. and considerable routine business was given attention.

During the session an intermission was declared in order that the members might attend the funeral service for Mrs. Libbie Harwood of Los Angeles, a former resident of Ontario and well known member of the corps. The ritualistic burial service was conducted by the corps.

RAGAN RECALLED FOR NAVY DUTY

Upland Man Receives Orders To Report at Once to San Diego

Herndon Ellsworth Ragan, who for the past two years has resided at 373 East Eleventh street, received orders this week to return to active service in the United States navy. He has been in the reserve corps for the past two years, after 20 years in the navy. He is chief boatswain's mate.

Ordered to report at once to Los Angeles headquarters, he is to arrive prior to August 30, for assignment to a ship at San Diego.

With three years residence in China to his credit, during which time his wife and son joined him, and with other foreign experience, Mr. Ragan highly recommends navy life for its educational and disciplinary value.

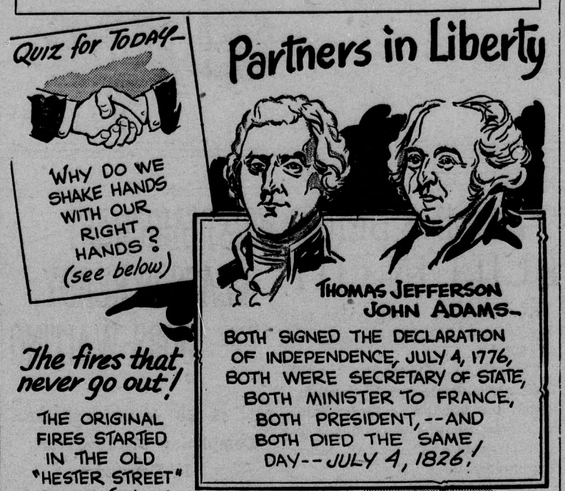

"A man has the opportunity to learn any trade he chooses in the navy," explained Mr. Ragan. "I learned two trades. I am a rigger, and can run any electric crane made. The routine and necessary discipline are fine, I think. I would recommend navy enrollment to any young man."

Since Mr. Ragan has been in Upland he has been assisting his brother-in-law, J. W. Connor, with his nursery business on West Ninth street.

Arriving yesterday for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Niswander, 246 Sixth avenue, was their daughter, Mrs. H. C. Kliewer, and children, Patricia, Kathleen and Tommy, of Santa Ana.

Jack Edwards, employed in the shop at the Alan A. Couch Upland Chevrolet agency, and Mrs. Edwards are spending this week in San Francisco. Mr and Mrs. Edwards reside in Pomona.

EYE OPENERS---by Bob Crosby

In olden days men carried swords—and drew them with their right hands. Extending right hands was a sign of peaceful intentions—by clasping right hands men knew they were safe from each other!

New Yorkers received their first gas service long before our country's vast supply of natural gas was utilized. On February 14, 1825, the first fuel manufacturing plant was started at Hester and Rhynder Streets, and the fires started that day have never gone out! Today, 115 years later, some 5,000,000 families in 8000 cities and towns use this universal fuel for cooking, water heating, house heating and refrigeration.

Regular Customer: "What did you do, cut him?"

Barber: "No, that wouldn't have mattered so much; I cut myself."

VOTERS LEAGUE SAYS

DEMOCRACY AT WORK

By a League Member

Sample ballots have now been mailed to registered voters in order that they may consider the merits of the various candidates and secure advance information about qualifications. The puzzle in the minds of the average voter is how to secure the kind of information he needs in the amount of time he has at his disposal.

The League of Women voters does not endorse candidates. It does, however, endeavor to collect impartial information about all candidates. A committee for this purpose has been established under the chairmanship of Mrs. Alfred R. Kipp of Upland, who will be glad to answer questions addressed to her by mail or the telephone.

There is in addition to the partisan offices, as you will note, the non-partisan office of a judgeship. At other times other judgeships are voted upon, and also the office of district attorney.

The League of Women Voters wishes to stress once more the importance of the primaries. The election will afford little satisfaction to the voter if he has to choose between two mediocre candidates because he has failed to inform himself wisely in preparing to vote in the primaries.

Mrs. Henderson's Step-Mother Dies

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Henderson went to Los Angeles today to attend funeral services for Mrs. Henderson's step-mother, Mrs. Lillian Swindle, who passed away Tuesday.

She was the widow of Lafayette Swindle, Mrs. Henderson's father, who passed away in Upland in July, 1939.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Swindle were known to many friends here.

At the Theatres

AT PADUA

Engaging songs and dances of Spain and Mexico are introduced in wide variety in "Hoy! La Familia Rojas!" comedy of a traveling tent show family, now being presented by the Mexican Players at the Padua Hills theatre.

In the entertainment between acts of the family's production of a comedy by Gorostiza as a "play within a play", Mariquita Hernandez dances "Alegrias" and "Manton de Manila" as solo castenet numbers, and interprets "Sandunga de Fiesta" with Anita de la Rosa, in Tehuantepec costume. Eduardo Montano sings "Lo Botijona," and Anita de la Rosa, "Serenata Tropical", as solos.

AT PASADENA

Every woman knows what every woman knows, but it took Barrie to imprint the full dramatic flavor in a playscript called "What Every Woman Knows", which is the current attraction at the Pasadena Community Playhouse.

Well known is the story of Maggie Wylie and John Shand. Ambition drove him into a matrimonial bargain, an agreement in writing which found continued postponement as the young Shand rose with lightning bounds to the parliament steps.

Christmas parties were given for the children and baskets of food were sent to unfortunate families at Christmas and Thanksgiving.

Godfrey A. Andreas has been selected as chief chef of the barbecue committee.

COUNTY EXHIBIT AT FAIR STARTED

Display Will Depict Variety of Produce, Outstanding Attractions

The attention of the 750,000 visitors who attend the 19th annual Los Angeles county fair in Pomona Sept. 13 to 29 will be attracted to San Bernardino county, its National Orange show, its wealth and diversity of products, its magnificent scenery and its unexcelled recreational opportunities as the result of the strikingly beautiful feature exhibit in the huge palace of agriculture. Under the general supervision of William Starkey, secretary-manager of the Orange show, the construction work on the big San Bernardino county exhibit is already well under way.

In past years the entries from San Bernardino county have excelled in lavishness, originality and color. This year's promises to surpass them all, according to Mr. Starkey. On a raised platform covered with glittering green foil and strewn with baskets of fruit and other products and measuring 14 by 20 feet will be a huge grandfather's clock. Its great pendulum will swing from side to side and the hands will move as on a real clock. The dial will be made of a greatly enlarged photograph of the famed Orange Show exhibits. Both sides of the clock will be similar.

Rancher Fractures Wrist in Fall in His Grove on Heights

Unaware that some perverse star was set against him on that day, and not even recalling that the day was the thirteenth in the month,, A. J. DeMeyere was entirely unprepared for the accidents that befell him Tuesday, one resulting in the breaking of the bones in his left wrist.

Missing his step while walking over the furrowed ground in his grove near his home on Euclid Crescent East, San Antonio Heights, Mr. DeMeyere fell. Attempting to shield his leg that still is somewhat stiff from a serious break a year ago, Mr. DeMeyere caught his weight on his left arm, breaking the bones.

Extent of the fracture was revealed in an X-ray examination and the bones were set by a physician.

Shortly before the accident Mr. DeMeyere drove his new car from the garage and had gone but a short distance when one of the tires went flat—which is unusual for a brand new tire and inner tube. Mr. DeMeyere now is convinced the day was jinxed to start with.

Harnish Apartment Building Will Be Completed Nov. 1

Construction of the four-unit apartment house to be erected here by Mr. and Mrs. Jay Dewey Harnish of Ontario, was started Thursday. The building is being erected on the northeast corner of Euclid avenue and G street.

Contract for erection of the apartment is held by the Campbell Construction Co. of Ontario and Mr. Harnish, a widely known architect, is supplying the plans.

Of frame and stucco construction and modified Colonial design, the building will contain four complete apartments, two having two bedrooms and the others one bedroom each.

Mr. Harnish stated today the apartment is scheduled to be ready for occupancy by Nov. 1.

The train came to a sudden grinding stop, causing the passengers to jump.

"What has happened, conductor?"

"Nothing much . . . We ran over a cow."

"Was it on the track?"

"No," replied the disgusted conductor, "we chased it into a barn."

Visitor in Upland 40 Years Ago, Now Seeing City Again

More than 40 years ago, when the mules still were pulling the street car up Euclid avenue—and riding down—C. A. Cuthbertson spent about six months here, working for Charley and Louis Tyler. Mr. Cuthbertson, now a farmer near Girard, Kan., is again in Upland, coming with Mrs. Cuthbertson and their son william to visit his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. J. Edward Cuthbertson and their son William way at Hervey avenue. Mrs. Cuthbertson visited in Upland briefly 18 years ago.

The visitors are being taken on various pleasure trips. They have been to Catalina Island, to Pasadena and Los Angeles and various other places, and if time permits they will go to Big Bear and Lake Arrowhead. Enroute here they toured Yellowstone national park, visited in various places in Oregon and traversed the Redwoods highway. They plan to return home by way of the Grand Canyon.

ORANGE VOLUME MAY SET RECORD

Shipments Out of State Likely To Be Biggest on Record, Is Report

Oranges shipped out of California in the present season should break all records for volume. This is indicated in the weekly report on carlot shipments issued by the California Fruit Growers Exchange today.

At the end of last week a total of 65,014 cars had been shipped since last October, establishing a new seasonal record. This total exceeds the record on the comparable date in 1938 by only two cars but is more than 8,500 cars above the past five-year average for the end of the second week of August.

By Aug. 12 Southern California orange shipments were nearly two hundred cars ahead of the 1938 record of 49,783 carloads up to Aug. 14 of that year.

Baptist Pastor Is Benefitted by Rest And Resumes Duties

The Rev. E. L. Thurmond, pastor of the Missionary Baptist church, is again in active charge of the church, after an absence of several weeks.

The Rev. Mr. Thurmond suffered a nervous collapse while preaching in his pulpit seven weeks ago. Three weeks later he and Mrs. Thurmond and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thurmond of Roseville, north of Sacramento, left by motor for Lamesa, in West Texas, where they visited for some time with relatives. They also spent a short time with relatives in Arkansas. The change and rest proved very beneficial to the Rev. Mr. Thurmond and he returned much improved in health, although his recovery is not yet complete.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Thurmond, are remaining here for a time.

TODAY'S BIBLE VERSE

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.—Psalm 23:1.

Havana Conference

At the Havana Conference of 21 republics the diplomacy of Secretary Hull accomplished two things: one, tangible and definite; the other, intangible, yet even more definite.

The tangible accomplishment is the new Act of Havana. This creates a virtual Pan-American Axis, with the republics agreed on preventing any violation of the Monroe Doctrine in South or Central America as a result of the European war; agreed to take action, individually or jointly, in defense of this hemisphere from any outer danger; agreed to cooperate in coping with subversive activities and with the grave economic difficulties of trade dislocations that have come with the war. All that is down on paper and is very definite as well as practical.

The intangible accomplishment is America's success in convincing her Latin neighbors—and in convincing Europe!—that America means business on several salient points and is resolved on a course of realism. The U. S. will fight if South America is attacked; the U. S. will fight if Fascists or Nazis attempt to seize territory of beaten nations in American waters; the U. S. will fight, in such cases, with the aid of South America, or without that aid. That isn't on paper, like the Act of Havana. But it is in South American minds—encouragingly. And it is in German and Italian minds—warningly.

And probably the unwritten accomplishment far outweighs the recorded document of the Act of Havana in its power to preserve peace, harmony and prosperity for the nations of the American continents.

People Want Defense, Not War

A financial authority recently made this significant observation: "Let us be on guard against the building of a war hysteria. Let us keep it clearly in mind that what we are talking about is defense and not going to war. This is the time for clear thinking rather than emotional thinking."

The standard polls indicate that while the American people are almost unanimously in favor of adequate preparedness, they are also overwhelmingly opposed to belligerent participation in the European slaughter.

Industry does not want war because, if for no higher reason, it knows from its experience in the last World war that it results in ruinous taxation and depression. It will do all in its power to avoid war—even while it does all in its power to make our defenses so strong that all aggressors will hesitate at bringing war to us.

Nigger Rich

You don't need to worry about our country going broke. You and I may not have pockets sagging because of silver and gold but our country—the United States of America—has more wealth and more available money whenever it may be needed than any other nation on this earth. We are so rich than in 1939 the automobile users consumed—that is the engines did—more than 20 billion 500 million gallons of gasoline, an increase of nearly 6 per cent over 1938. Broke? Not much.—Newport-Balboa News-Times.

MINK RAISING IS WORK OF JEAN VASBINDER, FAMILY

Work of a young girl and her family in the raising of minks is depicted in the current issue of the California Cultivator.

The little girl is Jean Vasbinder and the family is Mr. and Mrs. David L. Vasbinder. The former Uplanders now reside in Ontario. The magazine article tells of the interesting — and profitable — experience in the production of the valuable fur-bearing animal.

Minks are weasel-like members of the Mustela family, which includes skunks, badgers, martens, common weasels and several others. The mink takes a bit of anything and everything that comes along. If it turns out to be something else than food it can let go without losing anything after it has been investigated thoroughly.

TAKE CARE

However, kept properly housed and handled with nets or heavy gloves, there is no danger of being bitten. Jean Vasbinder takes care of the entire herd of mink. The hard-working father makes the cages out of heavy meshed wire.

More details about the minks, their care and other interesting phases of raising the fur-bearing animals are taken from the magazine article dealing with the Vasbinder project:

The cages are about four feet long, a couple of feet wide and a little higher than wide. Each has a door in the top; a nest box which can be removed; a water vessel or two; a feed trough and one or two small platforms.

The cages are set on wooden rails which keep them about six inches from the ground. The floor is the same mesh as the rest of the cage so all waste material falls through onto the ground and is easily cleaned out.

ALWAYS HUNGRY

The ration supplied to these animals is a mixture of hamburger, canned fish and a commercial mink meal. They call the animals minks but they are really little pigs the way they go after their food. If the cage has two or three individuals in it there is usually a battle royal and sometimes one or more of them gets bitten. The food costs from 40 to 45 cents per animal a month.

The Labrador minks weigh four to six pounds and have jet black, soft fur which is studded with longer black guard hairs. They also have a few white guard hairs mixed in. These white hairs are used by the furriers to distinguish the difference between real and artificial fur.

The kits are born in the spring and those that are to be pelted are transferred to cages in an air-conditioned shed in the fall. The fur primes in this climate in December.

WORTH $2000

For years raw pelts of Labrador minks have sold at around $40 to $50 each, but recent heavy importations of trapped furs from Japan and Russia have lowered the price to around $25 for a good pelt. Even at that price Jean could make a nice profit on the 27 minks she raised this year. However, there is a good demand for breeding stock and she will get more than that for them for breeders. All told her herd is worth more than $2000.

Although the minks are sure to take a bite at everything that comes within reach, the Vasbinders have the older ones so tame that they can be handled without danger of being bitten. With the young ones it is different. The young females squeal like rats in a trap when they are picked up and at the same time set their teeth in the glove.

ALIENS MAY GET FORMS HERE NOW

Information on Registration Available at Upland Post Office

Instructions and specimen forms for aliens in registering are now available at the Upland post office, Postmaster Orton P. Brady announced today. The specimen forms may be filled out at the applicants' homes.

In compliance with the provisions of the alien registration act of 1940 and in accordance with the order of the Postmaster General, the Upland post office will, beginning Aug. 27 and for four months, register and fingerprint all aliens, 14 years of age and over. The applicant does not have to reside within the delivery district of the Upland post offfice.

Any information furnished by aliens in connection with registration and finger printing is secret and will be held in strict confidence and not divulged to anyone but accredited officials, according to Mr. Brady.

Postmasters will not make any investigation to determine if aliens have registered or as to the accuracy of the answers to the questions.

An applicant may examine the regulations if he so desires.

Registration is free. It is not necessary to pay any person or group of persons for assistance in registering. A fine of $1,000 and imprisonment for six months is prescribed by the law for failure to register, for refusal to be fingerprinted or for making false registration statements, Mr. Brady explained.

Californians Speak

M. F. "Pop" Small, Quincy, editor Feather River Bulletin—"The fires of freedom will never burn out so long as they are fed with printers' ink."

Neil W. Lamb, Berkeley, high school research instructor—"Left-handed people should revolt against the world. They're victims of ago-old injustice. They are assumed to be a bit balmy by right-handed persons—and that's enough to make a philosopher eccentric. Southpaws are plenty bright."

R. G. Kenyon, pres. L. A. Adv. Club—"Business must bear the brunt of America's No. 1 problem — national defense. Business must provide the jobs to create the wealth to foot the multi-billion-dollar tax bill, and business must be geared to produce the materials needed for defense."

Prof. J. Douglas Brown, in Palo Alto address before Stanford Business Conference — "Production and patriotism go together, and neither the public nor the government will tolerate labor tieups during the nation's defense preparations."

Thank you for the beautiful basket of Sunkist fruit presented to me while in Upland. I think this is a splendid courtesy and a grand advertisement.

POLITICAL PARADE

BY CLEM WHITAKER

Back in 1916, California's vote elected Woodrow Wilson President for his second term—after most of the United States had gone to bed believing Hughes had won the election!

And California, in the year 1940, may again hold a pivotal position in deciding the battle for the presidency. There are developments which definitely indicate it and some of the eastern political experts are openly forecasting it.

On one point, political bigwigs of both parties agree: If New York goes for Roosevelt, Willkie can only win by carrying California, with its 22 electoral votes. And both New York and California are battlegrounds, with neither side willing to concede an inch.

The Gallup Poll, showing Willkie leading in electoral votes (the kind that elect!), and Roosevelt with a slight edge in total popular vote, is hotly disputed. But virtually every other impartial check, regardless of who has the edge, indicates a neck-and-neck battle—with New York's uncertainty making California's roll doubly significant.

One analysis, by an expert who seldom guesses, lists the states, one by one, and arrives at the conclusion that if Roosevelt can carry his home state of New York, and if his running-mate, Wallace, can pick off his state of Iowa—and if they can also carry California—the New Deal ticket will win with 284 electoral votes, or 18 more than the required 266. But if California should go for Willkie, it would be a Republican victory—by a nose!

While both Democratic and Republican managers scoff, publicly, at polls indicating that the race is so close nobody can figure it, privately they frankly concede that's the situation. And as a consequence, California is about to become one of the hottest battlegrounds in the whole U. S. A.

With few votes to spare (and no one knowing who has the spare parts) this state, with its 22 electoral ballots, has become a prize almost beyond price. And don't let anybody tell you different!

In nine of the last ten presidential battles, California has voted for the winner. Who will it be this year—Roosevelt or Willkie? You, Mr. and Mrs. California, may have to provide the answer!

Babies Worth More Than Luxuries Says Mrs. Alvin Musser

Mrs. J. Alvin Musser, 23 East Seventh street, has five dollars to spend as she pleases—perhaps for her children—as the result of writing a letter to "Young America" column in the Los Angeles Examiner. Prizes were offered for the best letters on the question "Should young couples rear families during the early years of marriage, even though it would entail financial hardship?"

Mrs. Musser's entry rated a $5 prize, the second highest. The letter, which appeared in the paper, together with a picture of the family, follows:

"I have to laugh every time I hear someone say she can't afford to have a baby—because I know that nine times out of 10 it's just selfishness. They think they will be tied down—won't be able to have all the luxuries of life. Fiddlesticks!

"My husband has never made more than $125 a month in our seven years of married life—yet we have a nice car, a six-acre lemon grove and three lovely children.

"Of course, we don't own a lovely home and the beautiful furniture we'd like, but our children have brought a million times more joy and contentment than material things could ever bring.

"Take my word for it, young married people—have your children while you're young. It's wonderful!

BURGLARY DRILL HELD BY POLICE

Help Received to Send Men To Bank But Plea Is Apparent Joke

Fire drills are held to give school children practical training in how to act in times of emergensy.

Policemen of Upland and Ontario had a burglary drill yesterday. It was a successful one according to the footnote added to the report in the Ontario police department.

The burglary drill started at 2:25 p.m. yesterday when a "man" sounding like he was being strangled said "come to the First National bank immediately". Then the telephone banged up, according to the Ontario police.

Believing it was a real, sincere appeal for help, Ontario police not only responded but also a call was placed with the Upland department and the Cucamonga bank was also "covered".

This comment was added to the report: "Must have been some idea of a joke but we were ready for them"—meaning the burglars.

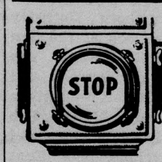

When misfortune reaches a man's door he walks right in without knocking.

REVIEW OF BOOKS AT LOCAL LIBRARY

New Book by Upton Sinclair Listed by Critics as His Best Book

BY MRS. GEO. W. WEST
Assistant Librarian

"Defense for America", the views of fourteen distinguished Americans, edited by William Allen White, who is the chairman of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies.

Uppermost in the minds of Americans today is the problem of adequate defense for America. William Allen White, chairman of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies, has sought to bring together between the covers of a single book many different points of view on this grave question.

Mr. White, in his introduction, sounds a clarion call. His thoughts travel back through the years during which a free and truly democratic civilization was founded on this continent by pioneers who knew the bitter struggle of poverty and gruelling hard work. Pioneers who faced it all and fought it through because they wanted that freedom and liberty which is the ideal toward which humanity has been striving since recorded time. Today, he writes, "it is their bread we are eating. The liberties they have established, the freedoms they won, the comforts they did not know, they have passed on to us . . . Our country is the realization in stone and concrete and steel and copper and iron and in a thousand soft benevolences of custom and usages, of their pioneer dreams."

He sketches further the tide of immigration, the exploitation of an unrestricted labor market, the toil which was as great as that of the pioneers, and the reward much less. And so on—to the outbreak of the present war. Mr. White does not claim that war may surely overtake us. His greatest fear is rooted in the changing social order which has already engulfed the European continent. That social order which has been erected on the theory that it pays to be kind, that the good neighbor is the prosperous man in the long run, that lying and deceit are a blight on all human relations, that social order is threatened.

Thus he feels that wherever the fight for freedom and liberty of man goes on, there is the front line trench. He has dedicated this book to the defense of America—but in a larger sense he claims that America's cause is the cause of all mankind.

Fourteen distinguished and representative Americans have contributed from independent points of view solutions for safeguarding the American way of life in the present crisis, and for protecting this continent from the catastrophe which has overwhelmed Europe. Frank P. Graham, George Creel, Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, Mrs. Dwight W. Morrow, and others are among those whose views are presented.

This volume should be "required reading" for every American citizen today.

WAR-TIME LIFE IN SPAIN IS RELATED

Letter From Barcelona Tells Of Food Shortage—Says Spain Pro-German

Telling of repeated rumors—seemingly too authentic for mental comfort—that Spain is about to declare war on England, speaking of food shortage in a we-haven't-starved-yet manner that reveals an underlying general fear of famine, describing the rush of refugees, from destitute war victims to fleeing royalty, the letter received by friends here from Mr. and Mrs. Leon L. Cowles of Barcelona, Spain, is exceptionally interesting.

Mr. Cowles is U. S. vice-consul in Barcelona and the letter (written by Mrs. Cowles in behalf of her very busy husband) was sent to their intimate friends, Arthur Tetter and his sister, Mrs. L. E. Griffith, 767 North Third avenue.

In opening her latter, Mrs. Cowles told of a trip they made last May along the eastern coast of Spain and across the Pyrenees to Perpignan on the southern French coast. She wrote:

"We're glad we made that trip for there never will be another like it. Now with German troops massed on the Spanish-French frontier, visas are impossible to get and even refugee Americans have a difficult time getting permits to leave the country."

(The reference to German troops on the Spanish-French border would indicate the Germans have occupied much more of France than had been generally known here).

REFUGEES AIDED

The consulate staff members, Mrs. Cowles writes, have been working seven days in the week and sometimes all night in bringing American refugees from the French border. Many had remained in France until the last minute, hoping France would not capitulate. They were in a state of hysterics and near collapse from fatigue and hunger. Of one particular group she says:

"Our job was terrific—to get them all 'checked in', see if their visas and passports were in order, if they had enough money to take them to the U. S. A., and if not, to lend them Red Cross funds; then let them have a few hours sleep and send them off on a special train to the Portuguese border enroute to their ship at Lisbon."

ROYALTY FLEEING

"Not only do we have American refugees," the writer says, "but also notables have been coming in droves, all enroute to Lisbon. The Duke and Dutchess of Windsor were here two days . . . Everyone says they are devoted and charming—real people—and they made quite a hit. King Leopold's three children and the Dutchess of Luxembourg were among many others."

In referring to Spain's pro-German attitude, Mrs. Cowles says: "There have been numerous 'Gibraltar - for - Spain and Franco demonstrations . . . Gasoline is now 5 pesetas a liter ($2.00 a gallon) and reported going to 8 pesetas. Meats again are getting scarce. According to market vendors many commodities are being either hoarded or sent to Germany and Italy. However, we are living well. Our foodstuffs arrived and we now are enjoying home-made white bread and pancakes and also have a few luxuries such as hot dogs, dried beef, canned hams, etc. Sugar is scarce."

Mrs. Cowles lamented the loss of a van load of 57 pieces of furniture and household furnishings, mildewed and rotting in the rain during an almost four months transit from the French port of Bilboa to Barcelona. The items cannot be replaced in Spain.

STAYS WITH HUSBAND

The wives and families of the consulate staff have returned to the United States, with the exception of the consul general's wife and Mrs. Cowles. Speaking of personal affairs, Mrs. Cowles says: "I will not go and leave my husband when he needs me most, and I'd be more worried so far away from him than I'll be here with him—famine or not, bombs or not!"

Sir Samuel Hoare, English ambassador to Spain, and Lady Maude Hoare were entertained at a formal tea—"one of the very few formal affairs since our arrival in Spain"—and Mrs. Cowles was a guest. She also told of Ambassador Bullitt's visit to the consulate enroute to Washington to report to President Roosevelt. "The U. S. embassy staff is scattered in Paris, Vichy, Bordeaux and other places and none of their communications to the state department in Washington are getting through."

REPUBLICANS PLAN EVENING MEETING

Candidate for Assembly and Convention Delegate Will Speak

Mrs. J. Clark Smith of San Bernardino, alternate delegate to the recent Republican convention, and A. B. Hornibrook. Republican candidate for assemblyman from this district, also of San Bernardino, will speak at the meeting of the West End Republican Women's club to be held next Wednesday in the Upland Elementary school auditorium.

Because of the importance of the occasion, the time of the meeting has been changed from 9 a. m. to 7:30 p. m., it is announced by the club president, Mrs. Earl E. Hawthorne.

The evening hour, Mrs. Hawthorne explained, will provide an opportunity for men as well as women to attend and the meeting will be open to the public.

The recently organized West End unit of the San Bernardino County Republican Assembly will lend support to the meeting and a large attendance is expected.

Mr. Hornibrook will be presented and will speak for a time, however, the principal address will be given by Mrs. Smith, who attended the national Republican convention as an alternate delegate from the Nineteenth Congressional district.

A Scotchman and his wife walked from their farm to the county fair, his wife laden down with a heavy lunch basket. Once arrived at the fair, he considerately turned to her and said:

"You'd better let me carry the basket now, Mary; we might get separated in the crowd."

CLUB HOLDS BARBECUE

With Mr. and Mrs. Fred Owings as hosts, members of the T. N. T. club held their annual picnic party on a recent evening, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon A. Billings lending their well equipped rear garden for the event.

Early in the evening a barbecue dinner was served and later the group went into the house for a 500 tourney.

Taking the place of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Blake were special guests. Others in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lawyer, Mr. and Mrs. William Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Hogancamp, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon A. Billings, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Allen, Mr. and Mrs. John McKee and Mr. and Mrs. Owings.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon A. Billings, 857 North Hellman avenue, Alta Loma, are expected to return Sunday from a 10 days visit in San Mateo, where they are guests of their nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Goshert. They planned to see the San Francisco fair during their stay in the bay district.

W. C. Clayton, who sub-leased his service station on Amethyst avenue, Alta Loma, to Frank Van Fleet Aug. 1, has been ill since his retirement and is confined closely to his home. Mr. Clayton is able to be up only a portion of the time.
